EPHEA CONFERENCE REPORT 2022

STRENGTH THROUGH ADVERSITY

the future of Higher Education equity, diversity and inclusion

27 NOVEMBER - 30 NOVEMBER 2022

Introduction

In 2022, the Equity Practitioners in Higher Education Australasia (EPHEA) biennial Conference was held at Kambri at ANU and hosted in collaboration with The University of Canberra (UC), The Australian National University (ANU), and the University of New South Wales (UNSW), Canberra.

The conference theme Strength through adversity: the future of Higher Education equity, diversity and inclusion aimed to position equity in a strength-based model, whereby institutions recognise the rich knowledge, experiences, and skills that diversity and enabling activities can empower. The conference highlighted the outstanding work of equity practitioners across the sector, as well as celebrated the achievements of staff and students who have leveraged their experience to achieve excellence.

Hosting the EPHEA 2022 conference with our fellow University partners was a true testament to working together to demonstrate our deep commitment and dedication to equity within our own institutions and the larger community.

The 2022 EPHEA conference program reflected the existing successful model that had been executed in the past with inspiring keynote speakers, a wide range of cutting-edge workshops, meaningful networking opportunities and exciting social and cultural events. Sub-themes spanned a broad range of topics, including:

- Diverse genders, sexes, and sexuality,
- Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander, Māori, Pacific Islander, First Nations and First Peoples,
- Intersectionality,
- Disability, ability, accessibility, and mental health,
- Refugee and Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD) backgrounds, and;
- Support for vulnerable students

The 2022 Conference was managed by Jason Thomas Events. The program and conference handbook are available at https://epheaconference.com.au/

Parallel Sessions, Posters & Panels

Consistent with the conference themes, 57 presentations and 2 poster presentations were delivered. Presentations and poster submissions were called for through an application process, and selected after blind peer review of abstracts by at least two members of the Organising Committee. In the case of any discrepancy in reviewing consensus, a third reviewer with expertise in the given area was called upon for final assessment.

The 2022 conference also had the opportunity to showcase the student experience by incorporating a facilitated student panel.

Evaluation

Feedback was collected through a post-conference survey, which was emailed to all conference delegates immediately after the conference and two reminders in the week following the conference. There were 73 respondents. Feedback for what delegates 'liked about the conference' are thematically represented in the word cloud below - the larger the word, the more frequently it was used.

Key takeaways:

- When asked what delegates would rate the conference (out of 10) responses ranged between 7 10
 - o 12.3% rated 7/10
 - o 31.5% rated 8/10
 - o 34.2% rated 9/10
 - 17.8% rated 10/10
- 68% of respondents said they were 'extremely likely' to recommend this conference to a colleague
 - 25% moderately likely
- 61.1% of respondents said the conference was 'extremely organised'
 - 30.6% moderately organised
- Over 70% of delegates said the conference staff were 'extremely helpful'

Recommendations

Following feedback from the attendees, the following recommendations have been developed to help inform the 2024 planning:

1. Logistics and Communication

- Central noticeboard in the conference venue for important info each day (i.e., cancelled sessions, what not to miss, social event reminders)
- Consider alternative means of communications with essential information leading up to the event – at a busy time in the year emails can get clogged or ignored
- A secure room to store equipment, technology, and any personal items for delegates/conference team

2. Programming

- More time between conference sessions to network and reflect
- Continuation of the student panel or similar session to showcase the student voice
- Shorter conference days to be more inclusive of flexible working hours and mindful of cognitive load
- Consider more frequent breaks for delegates to process information and reset before the next session
- Maintaining a wellbeing focus in the workshop streams/keynotes
- Closed captioning is essential; live translations would be most ideal as software was not adequate
- Increase the representation and voice of First Nations people

Recommendations

3. Catering

 2022 opted for meat free catering in line with 2019 feedback and suggestions to move to a 'greener' conference. Feedback from 2022 suggests increasing variety of all foods (not strictly vegetarian) but having more vegan options for dietary requirements

4. Miscellaneous

- As well as acknowledging lifetime achievements, consider additional categories to celebrate the diversity of the EPHEA network. Suggestions include awards celebrating Indigenous achievement, a new/rookie category to highlight and commend the work of young people in the network
- Have presentation/workshop slides made available online after the conference
- Opportunities for dissemination of Conference Presentations/Papers Explore
 Student Success Journal submissions, and others
